

South West SACRE conference 2023

The essential date for SACRE members!

SACREs - working to develop high quality curricula for the study of Religion and Worldviews

1:00 - 4:00pm Mon 6th March 2023 (via Zoom)

Keynote speaker: Trevor Cooling

Trevor is the former Chair of the Religious Education Council. With new, exemplar RE curriculum frameworks to be published in 2024 Trevor will be sharing his humour and wisdom by talking about the journey towards the development of a coherent and challenging curriculum in religion and worldviews.

Plus 5 Workshops offering 'something for everyone' across the whole range of SACRE membership groups!

Deborah Weston: national standards in RE? Deborah will give an insight into the way the RE Policy Unit is working with national bodies to establish a clearer national statement of standards in RE

Claire Clinton and Ed Pawson: Regional RE Hubs Claire and Ed will be introducing the work of the new Regional RE Hubs project, outlining its aims to improve communication between teachers, professional development and resource providers, and research communities

Adam Robertson: curriculum development in RE Adam will be exploring what makes a good, progressive RE curriculum

Pat Hannam: Teachers and teaching matter (because children are not robots) Pat will be discussing what SACREs can do in a time of crisis for teacher education and recruitment?

Jane Yates: what makes a great SACRE? Jane, who leads Cumbria SACRE, will be exploring the key elements to make an excellent SACRE

Cost: Just £15 per delegate!

To register for the conference, contact your SACRE clerk who will arrange bookings. Alternatively, contact Ed Pawson directly: efpawson@gmail.com